

Date: 3rd November 2021

Time: 7.30 pm

Location: Online Zoom Webinar

How to register: The zoom registration link can be found in the members area and members with email will also have been sent the link. Once registered members will be sent the zoom invite directly.

Title: In the Footsteps of Trebellius Maximus

Speaker: Dr Caroline Pudney, Senior Lecturer in Archaeology, University of Chester

Blurb: The discovery in 2019 of a unique lead pig (ingot) bearing the name of the Governor of Roman Britain, Marcus Trebellius Maximus, near Rossett Wrexham, led archaeologists from Wrexham Museum and the University of Chester to team up and hatch a plan... With funding from the Roman Research Trust and Cadwyn Clwyd, the 'In the Footsteps of Trebellius Maximus' project has since been investigating the wider archaeological context of this rare find. This talk summarises the work undertaken to date, including the first season of excavations of northeast Wales' first ever archaeologically attested Roman villa!

